Chilean law firm Guerrero Olivos has incorporated Andrea Olea as an associate in its energy and natural resources practice

Andrea (pictured) previously worked in the legal department of the country's energy commission, giving her valuable experience in the electric power and oil and gas regulatory framework.

She is a graduate of the Universidad de Chile, and from where she also received a diploma in public economic law.

Andrea's arrival at the firm follows that of Juan José García, who joined the firm as an associate in its antitrust and compliance practice in August.
